

[photography workshop]

How to photograph children professionally

Overview:

Marketing, advertising and pricing

Studio or on location?

How to manage the shoot

How to get the best out of the kids

What to photograph and how to photograph it

Image editing and processing

Web display and sales

Print options etc

Detail:

If you own a digital SLR camera, like children and might even enjoy acting like a child(!), then photographing them professionally could be a valuable addition to your photography business.

In this workshop, Damian will look at all aspects of photographing children professionally. Initially, he'll look at who to advertise to and how to do it and the pros and cons of shooting in a studio and/or on location.

So, you have a booking? Damian will go on to explain how to manage all aspects of the shoot, how to deal with children of different ages and how to manage the parents too!

Damian will then examine what to shoot and how to do it. Things to look out for and things to avoid along with sound photographic techniques that will empower you to naturally develop your own style.

Finally, Damian will discuss image editing, processing and display, touching on sales and various print options etc.

Have taken lots of photos of your kids? Have your friends have started asking you to photograph their kids? Things look promising but you need some guidance on how to take things further? Yes, yes and yes? Then this is the workshop for you.

Duration: Full Day

Price: £275 + vat

Location: Surrey

Please get in touch for course availability and to make a booking.